PROGRESS CHENANGO 2019

Our highly anticipated, annual review of the past year in Chenango County, and look ahead into the new year, is fast approaching publication in The Evening Sun's Progress Chenango 2019!

Each and every section of this year's special five-day series will explore how Chenango County businesses, organizations and our leaders navigated 2018, how they intend to do so in 2019, including their hopes and predictions for the year ahead. This year we are looking for a fresh perspective on our area by asking how the reins of community are being passed on to a new generation, and how that new group sees the future.

Progress Chenango is a vast collection of stories told through interviews with county business leaders, local representatives, educators, small business owners, realtors, religious leaders, heads of non-profit and others, from the places we all live and call home. The section will also include many success stories told in the direct voices of advertisers who take advantage of our special Success Story offer, highlighted below.

As an advertiser, you won't want to miss out on this great marketing and advertising opportunity – one, you can't afford to miss. And, as a potential reader too as Progress Chenango 2019 is sure to be another highly-read, keepsake series.
